

Fly Fishing Instructor Job Description

Position

Lincoln Hills Cares is seeking energetic, passionate, outdoor education-oriented individuals to serve our growing outdoor education programs. This position will be responsible for instructing fly fishing lessons to youth of varying ages and backgrounds at a private fly-fishing facility. The position is part-time/seasonal from mid-May to August, with other possible opportunities in the spring and fall.

Responsibilities

- Provide basic fly-fishing instruction to youth, including aquatic ecology (entomology, biology, etc.).
- Actively engage with a diverse population of youth.
- Become a brand ambassador and representative of programming services offered.
- Monitor the care and maintenance of any equipment and facilities.
- Display model behavior and maintain open lines of communication.
- Ensure the health and safety of participants.

Requirements

- Previous experience working with and managing youth.
- Must be able to work with populations with diverse economic, social, racial and cultural backgrounds.
- Exceptional communication skills.
- Ability to be part of a team, as well as work independently, take initiative, self-direct, and overcome challenges in a fast-paced environment.
- Ability to stand for extended periods of time, as well as other basic physical skills.

Additional Information

- Flexible schedule during summer (May through August)
- 25-40 hours per week from 9am-3pm
- Bilingual (Spanish) candidates encouraged to apply
- Must have a driver's license and reliable transportation.

Pay Range: $12 - $15 hourly, including drive time
